In order to enhance the knowledge of the user community, the library procures not only several course related reference books and also special and rare books on ancient arts, culture and history, encyclopedias, biographies, dictionaries, paintings, yearbooks, career and competitive exam books etc. The library and teaching staff visit book exhibitions to procure rare and special books. The teaching staff also makes it a point to buy some good books whenever they go to other cities to participate in workshops, seminars and conferences. Library maintains digital copies of downloadable books from various web sites such as pdfdrive.net, library genesis etc. These copies are sent to the students and staff through email on demand. Library displays on the notice board some useful web sites that contain course related content and other reference material. At the beginning of every academic year the Library staff provides orientation programs to staff and students on the usage of e-resources of N-LIST that contains more than 6000 journals and 31 lacks e-books. Each of them is provided logins to access N-LIST. PG students are provided awareness on usage of ePgpathashala which provides e-content related to their course content. Several general and subject related periodicals are subscribed and the staff motivates the students to read them. Some staff give assignments to students on the topics given in the journals. The journals help students gain some awareness on latest trends and technology, ongoing research in different subject fields of their interest. Back volumes of Journals and magazines are maintained and provided to users for reference. Internet access is provided in a separate room with 15 computers. There are 437 Educational CDs available. In order that the students could prepare for civil services and other competitive exams magazines such as pratiyogita darpan, competition success review etc. are subscribed. Library regularly displays notifications about various entrance exams, jobs etc. in the notice board. Latest news and other important information collected from daily newspapers is displayed on the white board. Library subscribes to four newspapers such the Hindu, Deccan Chronicle, Eenadu (Tel), and Andhra Jyothi (Tel). Personality development books which help in inspiring the minds of the users are provided.
